

Rest Room Project On Down Grade?

Did you notice the question mark just above us? Should it be there? Guess so — have you heard about too much action in this direction in the past few weeks.

Different organizations have taken up the cudgel and are holding dances, draws and what have you to support the very necessary building. One deal that came to our notice was the evening that Fred Metz, our eminent councillor from east of town, has planned for the evening of Nov. 26. All proceeds from the evening's entertainment will go into the slush fund for the community rest room. Take a look in the coming event column for more details on this deal. Sounds like a good idea — could be put over anywhere we think. Do we hear something in the background? Are there any others who would care to help in this way?

There have been many promises made to canvassers who represent those who are promoting the project but the Lions can't build the proposed new house on promises. The long green, negotiable stuff has to be on hand to pay the bills.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE . . .

A drunk staggered into a hotel lobby and asked the desk clerk how he could get to the men's room. The clerk told him: "Up that flight of stairs, turn left; up another flight, turn right, and it's right at the end of the hall."

The drunk got somewhat confused along the line. He made it to the third floor all right, but he stepped into an open elevator shaft. Naturally a crowd gathered, looking down at him. He shook his head, looked up, saw all those people, and said: "For gosh sakes, don't flush it!"

OH, HOW WONDERFUL TV COULD BE . . .

Things I can do without on television.

Commercials with dancers tripping early around the new cars. Does that sell automobiles?

Wealthy people getting wealthier on quiz shows.

Interviewers who needle public figures on TV quiz conferences. Get the facts, yes, but there's no need to be nasty about it.

Ad agencies that turn up the sound volume when the commercial comes on. We can hear, we can hear!

Hail Group To Meet With M. D.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Members of the Mountain View Hall Suppression Association will meet with the council of the Municipal District of Mountain View on Thursday night (Nov. 15) to decide whether or not a plebiscite will be held within the municipality this year on the hall deal.

The reason for the vote is quite apparent — do farmers want a tough more on their tax bill or don't they?

The same plan was defeated in an earlier plebiscite but the project was carried over by donations from farmers and interested parties. The first time around it proved an outstanding success, many converts were made. It is felt now that all should pay their share of the protection scheme and not have the load on the shoulders of a few.

At the time of writing the decision to have a plebiscite had not been confirmed, but it is practically a sure bet that one will be held when certain boundaries in the target area have been defined.

ALONG THE SAME LINES . . .

INNISPAUL — Approximately 150 farmers and businessmen of the Penhold, Innisfail and Bonaville districts attended a recent hall suppression meeting in the Penhold hall.

As was the case at a recent Innisfail meeting the vote for the establishment of hall suppression in the Penhold and surrounding districts was 100 per cent in favor of the plan.

Wm. Conner, Alberta representative of the Canadian branch of the W.R.D.C. Modification Corporation, was guest speaker. He outlined the operation, which was in its fourth year in Canada. Reports were heard on operations which were held in the Didsbury district, which, according to the record, were very successful.

HOSPITAL ADDITION STARTING TO TAKE SHAPE

They're pouring cement for that new addition to the local hospital and it is expected that construction crews will be busy hammering nails into the frame work this weekend.

As was mentioned before, if the fellow in charge of the weather stays with us, or gives us a turkey, it won't be too long before we will be assured of extended hospital services here.

Cold War

OTTAWA — In the opinion of officials here, the East-West cold war is being revived in all its frigid fury.

In the last few weeks Russia has trumped brutally on the Hungarian independence uprising, threatened Britain and France with rocket attack and talked of putting "volunteers" in the Middle East.

External Affairs Minister Pearson described the Soviet armed action in Hungary as "one of the greatest and crimmest betrayals in history." The prime minister of Canada said it was a "most serious threat to peace."

Authorities said that in the last year there has been a good deal of hope that tensions were actually easing.

It is obvious, they added, that the Russian smiles have vanished and the so-called Russian emphasis on economic competition with the West has gone out the window.

The danger for the West has not passed by any means. The current situation has proved more clearly than ever that there can be no relaxation in the defence program, now costing Canada $1,775,000,000 a year, or 40 per cent of the federal budget.

Is Your Name In
This Week's Paper

Well, if not your name, probably the names of some of your friends and neighbors.

Not, of course, because they made the headlines. Fortunately very few of us do.

But simply because you and your friends and neighbors are contributing to the useful life and progress of this area, taking part in church and school activities, doing the many things which make our community a better place in which to live.

A weekly newspaper is a newspaper about and for people like you . . . reflecting the community's life . . . attempting to assist in its leadership.

It wants to work with you . . . to tell about you . . . to serve you.

That is the job of a good weekly newspaper and, with your help, that is what we are trying to do, editor, printers and correspondents working together.

Blood Donor Clinics Pay The Shot

The intrinsic desire of man to help his fellows in distress, is nowhere given more inspiring expression than at the Red Cross Blood Donor clinics, where thousands of citizens across Canada go several times a year to donate their blood for the benefit of the ailing. Many people whose health will not permit them to donate, work long and hard without remuneration to assist in any way they can at the clinic. Some work and donate, too. Without these voluntary workers and the generous donors, it would be impossible to run the service, but it should not be forgotten that professional assistance is also required. Costs are pared to a minimum, but there are nevertheless heavy expenses.

In order to run the service at a peak of efficiency, and anyone who has attended or assisted at these clinics has high praise for the competent team work of the professional staff, a regular full-time group of workers must be employed by the Red Cross. Besides salaries to this staff there is the expense of transportation, storing, emergency mercy trips and, for certain aspects of the transfusion program, for processing the blood. The net result is that each pint of blood cost the Society $5 per transfusion in 1955, and is expected to be higher in 1956. Last year nearly 17,000 people in this province received an average of two transfusions each — a formidable number. This year the demand for blood has increased 20 per cent over last year.

All across Canada, except for the metropolitan areas of Montreal and Toronto, where the clinics do not operate under the aegis of the Red Cross, the blood is given completely free. Many of the people who receive it are probably unaware that the expense of collecting and procuring the blood is very high, and if they were made aware of this fact would undoubtedly be willing to assist the Society with donations of money — or blood — or possibly both, in appreciation for what has been done for them.

There will be a Blood Donor Clinic held in Didsbury on Thursday, November 22; make sure you're in one of the categories mentioned above!

NEW DAYLINERS HIT THE STEEL

The Canadian Pacific Railway will add two new Dayliner trains daily between Calgary and Edmonton, November 12, to supplement the service these swift, stainless steel rail-diesel-cars have been giving on this run since they were first introduced to Alberta by that road in the summer of 1964.

The new trains will be leaving Calgary at 1:35 p.m. and Edmonton at 5:30 p.m. They will greatly improve connections to Edmonton off the Canadian westbound through Calgary, off and onto both Fort Macleod Dayliners (morning and night) in the Lettbridge service and onto the Kettle Valley Express at Fort Macleod, westbound for Vancouver and Medicine Hat.

Schedules allow 3 hours, 35 minutes northbound, arriving Edmonton 5:10 p.m. and 3 hours, 25 minutes southbound, arriving Calgary 8:55 p.m.

The new trains were announced recently by A. K. Stewart, district passenger agent for Alberta. They made possible by assignment to the Alberta district of its eighth Dayliner. These streamlined cars can hit 45 miles per hour within one minute of a standing start, go up to 89 m.p.h., get in and out of stations the fastest yet.

Northbound the new Dayliner will stop at Crossfield and Carstairs on line and will make regular stops at Didsbury and central points north to Edmonton. Southbound the only stops will be at South Edmonton and Red Deer.

This Week . . . From This Corner —

Remembrance Day has come and gone for another year . . . but each day of the year, we will remember. There was a fair number of people on hand here Sunday for the special service, held in chilly weather on the Memorial Centre grounds. But then, before we leave this subject, we would like to point out a few disappointments which cropped up in the local observance of the sacred service this year in the minds of many people. We'll put it in the way of questions if you like and, as you know, we're always open to criticism, our columns are open to you, provided you sign your written missives; we've mentioned before . . . this ain't no Iron Curtain . . . the lads who died for us made that possible. And away we go —

WHY was there no bugler to sound "Reveille" and "Last Post"? The squeak box used was more than inadequate.

WHY did some churches deem it so necessary to hold regular morning services this one Sunday of the year, when the pastors of each and every one could have gathered with all denominations to honor the fallen as a group? We have no doubt our heroes were the first in mind at every service, in every church, but in the small centre we are privileged to live in and be a part of, don't you feel November 11th, Remembrance Day, is the time for all to move in the same direction, together?

WHY wasn't the parade put at ease at times during the service when the rigid position was not called for? Two young lads passed out because of this procedure. They may have to be soldiers some day — we hope not — time enough then for them to learn and suffer.

WHY wasn't the two-minute silence observed? It might have been technical or other difficulties — but let's stop the show . . . let us all have that two minutes of silence.

You can start firing your shells our way now, if you so wish. We've had shells fired our way before — the more lethal variety. We haven't forgotten the shells or the ones who were not as fortunate as ourselves. We came home in one piece . . . or did we?

This Week . . . From This Corner —

Some streets within the town have been receiving the gravel treatment and the improvement is much appreciated. There are still a few bad holes that you don't need a Geiger counter to find but we believe either gravel or snow will level these off, ere long.

This Week . . . From This Corner —

This note may not be met with loud cheers in some spots, but what has to be, has to be. Effective January 1, 1957 we, in line with other weekly newspapers in the province will raise subscription rates to $3.00 per annum. Present rates were established when newsprint sold for $50 a ton; today it has hit a whopping $135 a ton, with yet another increase pending. Elsewhere in this issue you can glean more facts of the case, spouted by the publisher of a large daily newspaper. It's operating expenses have increased — so have ours in proportion. It's increase wasn't too much, nor will ours be.

This Week . . . From This Corner —

The sad old tycoon came out of his club, hailed a cab, got in slowly and carefully. The driver asked: "Where to sir?" "Drive off a cliff," said the old man. "I've decided to commit suicide." Who would want to be a taxi pilot under these conditions?

FREEDOM OF SPEECH OR IS IT PROPAGANDA?

One of the things that rocked us most in this current world crisis was the sudden condemnation of Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden. He probably realizes as well as anyone that the average Briton is sick and tired of war, but he is not fool enough to stand idly by and see his country manoeuvred into an impossible situation, where there would be little hope for extrication without a major conflict.

He was pounced upon by the Labor Party in opposition to his government and suffered some deflection in his own political ranks . . . but when it came to the vote in parliament he was well sustained.

Newspapers whose editors must have known the diplomatic pitfalls that were being laid for him, such as the Manchester Guardian, for instance, were most bitter in their denunciation. Right here in Alberta we saw the Calgary Albertan come out with an editorial headed up, "Eden Must Be Thrown Out." Perhaps we shouldn't expect too much from the editor of the Calgary Albertan, but we were shocked to hear the C.B.C. commentary last night by Professor Keastad of the Toronto University in his scathing attack upon Israel, Britain and France and particularly upon Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and his Tory government, as he termed it.

In fact we were rather startled at the first utterances of our Hon. Lester B. Pearson, but Pearson soon got used up to the situation and probably has done more than any one man towards formulating a peaceful solution to the crisis.

The reason why we are so critical of utterances as that made by the C.B.C. commentator is that this is the stuff the Canadian citizen on the street is paying out good hard cash for and he has the right to expect something tempered by the rules of reason. If the Toronto professor wants to utter a tirade against responsible government, let him hire radio time of his own . . . but, in the light of all that is holy, don't stuff such tripe down the throats of Canadian people by force, through the medium of our own government-controlled radio system. In times of crisis like these, it is very essential that all scripps for broadcasts be closely scrutinized before the program is released over the air. Already results have demonstrated that this particular professor of political science was woefully ignorant of the situation in the Middle East. He surely was giving comfort to the enemy, and we have had all too much of that in Canada in recent months.

We heard a tinge of it in a recent address delivered in Camrose, and we came back to our cluttered desk muttering unholy oaths at the ignorance of supposedly educated men.

THE HIGH RIVER TIMES comments on games of chance. A man who frowns on bingo may go out on the highway and drive his car at a speed far exceeding safety rules, gambling his life, and the lives of others whom he may encounter on the road. Most people gamble, every day of their lives, and it is difficult to lay down hard and fast laws, or to say at what point moral laws may be violated. All over the west are "living memorials" to community bingos in the form of civic

LIGHT YOUR WAY WITH BIBLE STUDY

We are living in a day of disappointments. A businessman can tell you today just where he will be next Thursday. Unfortunately, amid the clutter of appointments the world has lost sight of the one appointment which gives purpose to all of life. It is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment."

That's life's supreme appointment, an appointment none of us will be able to evade or even to postpone. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ."

Are you prepared for that appointment? No man is ready to meet his Maker who has not found forgiveness for his sins in the death of the world's Redeemer. The Apostle Paul could say "I am ready" because he had made his peace with God through faith in Christ.

Can you look forward to that appointment with the same joy and confidence?

—Remember at Christmas — that STOTT'S, of Olds, name on the box adds much to the gift but nothing to the cost.

centres, old people's homes, swimming pools, curling rinks, parks and so on. These would probably never have come into being had it not been for bingos. And the little raffles conducted by organizations all go to good works.

And along the same line THE OLDS GAZETTE comments . . . Alberta's attorney-general has expressed the hope that more organizations will cancel their planned activities in the field of bingo. We can see no good reason for lessening of activity. When you find one rotten apple in the box you don't condemn the whole box of fruit; when one jockey throws a race, you don't condemn the whole sport of racing . . . Bingo, within limitations, is entertaining, worthwhile and has contributed immeasurably to the well-being of thousands in Alberta alone. The sponsors and the public will provide the safeguards as long as the courts will condemn the evil.

By The Way

Contributed by
REV. T. J. STANTON, M.A.

"THE PLAY PEN VERSUS THE CROSS"
An energetic and up-to-date young salesman went to the phone to call up a prospective buyer. A boy answered. The salesman asked, "Is your mother home?" "No." "Is your father home?" "No." "Is there anyone home but you?" "Yes, my sister." "May I speak to her?"
"I'll see."

After a few minutes waiting, the boy's voice was heard again, saying:
"I cannot lift my sister out of her play pen."

There is a sense in which too many people cannot be lifted out of their play mood and attitudes. It is well to remember that "a little nonsense now and then, is related by the wisest men." Or again, "all work and no play, gives one a dull day." Nevertheless, when one reads the audited reports of our sports clubs, amusement centres and play organizations, one is simply amazed. Are we seeking for life's best in this way?
Are we trying to make ourselves believe that life's real purpose can be found here? Can satisfaction of an enduring nature be found in playing everything but play becomes a matter of secondary importance?

J. B. Phillips, one of the outstanding British scholars of today says:
"Part of what the theologians call original sin, is a tendency in all of us to avoid the difficult and the unpleasant, and take the line of least resistance whenever we can." Of course there are many exceptions all over the country. But there are many among us who evade, if possible, every challenge, and dodge every cross. To make up for the sense of emptiness that such living brings we turn like children to play.
Like Nero who "fiddled while Rome burned," we too often play when cross bearing would be more suitable and much more safe and satisfying.

Vaughn Shoemaker had a cartoon in the Chicago Daily News, some little time ago, called "Still Racing His Shadow." It was the picture of a working man running, his dinner pail in hand. He carried an inscription on his overalls, "New wage demands." He is racing his shadow, which keeps even with him. The words written across the shadow are "Cost of living." When and where will the race stop?

Here we have much action and small results. Roland Hill, once said: "Many people are working, like children on a rocking horse. They have motion but no progress. Yet progress of a profound nature and of undying worth to each of us has been made this last week in the United Nations. Progress throughout the world's history is nothing more or less than the track left by people who were willing to be cross bearers.
In all, we have been a bit slow to recognize and slower to put into practice this heroic attitude. "Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ," has not been too acceptable to us. Yet the very values we cherish most as a people, remain amongst us because there are people who not only believe in this principle, but also practice it.

Three times during the past few days these words, "I am proud to be a Canadian," came over our national network. They were also heard abroad. They came from different centres. They had their origin in very different circumstances. But in each case the speaker was moved by the high quality of the reactions of people who were then facing and meeting the most trying experiences, in a noble and heroic manner. The speaker in each case was saying to all Canadians, that in November, 1956, there are those among us who are bearing crosses and bearing them well.

After hearing the parable of "The Rich Man and Lazarus" read, a boy said thoughtfully, "I would rather be the rich man while I am living, but I would sooner be Lazarus when I come to die."

How many of us who choose the play pen in life, would like to be cross bearers when life's end comes.
We will be a prototype of one or the other accordingly as we have lived.

"We are not here, to play, to dream, to drift.

We have hard work to do and loads to lift.

Shun not the struggle, face it.
"Thy God's gift."

CHICKWEED IN LAWNS ... and in cultivated fields has been a problem to some people for quite some time. This weed spreads rapidly and the seeds germinate continually throughout the growing season. The solution is not yet assured but there is a glimmer of hope in a new product named "Neburon".
This material was used experimentally at the Lacombe Experiment Station during the past season.

Newspaper Publisher
Gives Insight On
Costs and Problems

Some of the problems, technical and ethical, which face a newspaper publisher in the course of a day's work, were revealed to members of a Calgary service club recently by Basil
Dean, publisher of The Calgary Herald.

"It might be a new thought to you," Mr. Dean said, "but we are really engaged in a manufacturing enterprise." He went on to explain that in the course of producing 62,000 copies of The Herald every day, it is necessary to prepare 48-page forms having a total weight of 8,200 pounds, all of which must be assembled by hand in a 24-hour day. "These forms," he said,
"are cast to limits which, in order to ensure good reproduction, are measured in thousandths of an inch."

In addition to the 8,200 pounds of page forms, the production of the paper also involves the casting of 7,700 pounds of plates from which the newspaper is actually printed.

Considering the costs of production, plus the cost of newspaper, it can be seen that copies of The Herald sell at considerably less than cost, he said. "Even if manufacturing costs are entirely disregarded, the papers still sell at less than cost."

The guest speaker dealt at some length with the all-important question of time, space and editorial policy.

"News," he said, "is the most perishable commodity in this world," and he explained in detail the importance of speed and the maintenance of a rigid schedule in the production of a newspaper.

In conclusion Mr. Dean touched on the most intangible and difficult problem in the production of a newspaper: the establishing and maintenance of a policy of fairness, decency and good taste.

"These virtues," he said, "are largely a matter of individual judgment, and depend to a great extent

CARRYING A TORCH ...

A student was on his way to visit some friends during a vacation. The way led through a Florida swamp.
"Say," he asked his elderly guide, "is it true that an alligator won't hurt you if you carry a torch?" The guide thought a moment, "I reckon that depends on how fast you carry it."

Applied to chickweed in Kentucky's Blue Grass at Lacombe last spring, this new product took out chickweed without apparent harm to the grass. Chickweed thrives on shaded lawns and with germination continuing throughout the season there is a rapid succession of crops.
At Lacombe, one application not only killed off the initial growth but also each of the succeeding four or five emergences also denuded and died.
Nebruron was also tried experimentally by the Lacombe men at Alex on Tartary buckwheat and at Leslieville on Corn Spurrey. Reports indicate that excellent results were realized on both of these very troublesome weeds. In both trials the crops (barley) were unharmed.

These are preliminary trials only and more work and study is in order before recommendations on the use of Nebruron are released.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How Christ healed sickness and discord of every kind will be brought out at Christian Science services on Sunday.

The Master's healing of the woman who had "a spirit of infirmity" eighteen years and "was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself," (Luke 13), will be included in the scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body."

From Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, the following selection will be among those read (210:11-16): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through men, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and given a better understanding of soul and salvation."

IRON CURTAIN
CRASHER

We confess a smacking request for one resourceful gentleman who fooled the Commies — albeit by morally dubious means.
Seems he would lead his hollow aluminum artificial leg with ease, coffee and sytoms in West Berlin, then whisk over the border into East Berlin in his motorized sled chair. He made a neat profit — until the border gendarmes ultimately caught up with him.

More and more businessmen from artificial limbs to shipbuilding — similarly find aluminum a valuable aid to sales and profits. Further major expansion of Alcan's operations in both Quebec and B.C. is aimed to satisfy the
for the light metal.

Government Follows Same Policy On Farm-Stored Grain, F. U. A. Suggests Change

The executive of the Farmers' Union of Alberta met in Edmonton on November 2nd and one of the items discussed was the question of cash advances on farm-stored grain. The previous position of the Farmers' Union was reiterated that they do not believe that the present bank loan scheme is satisfactory to farm people. The executive stated that the Farmers' Union of Alberta would be prepared to go along with any administrative agency that would readily put cash advances into farmers' hands. They were of the opinion that the system proposed of making advances through elevator agents was probably the most practical that had been designed to date and they would be willing to support such a scheme.

It is their hope that the Wheat Board would not become involved in this process and suggest that some agency of the department of finance might well work with the elevator companies directly and thus relieve the Wheat Board of any necessity to become involved in the scheme.

The previous position that interest rates should either be not charged or be kept at a minimum level, was reiterated. They appreciate the practical difficulties involved if no interest is charged, because of the great number of loans that would then be made, and would not object too seriously to a small interest rate that would make the scheme more practical than it otherwise would be. The Farmers' Union is quite prepared to support any practical scheme of cash advances on farm-stored grain, along with other organizations in Western Canada, and will be doing so.

LOAN ACT EXTENDED BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

The federal government has renewed for another year legislation enabling prairie grain producers to obtain bank loans against farm-stored grain. Last week an order-in-council was approved extending provisions of the Prairie Grain Producers' Interim Financing Act, 1934.

Loans are to be made on the same terms as last year.

This legislation authorizes the government to guarantee bank loans on farm-stored western wheat (other than durum), oats, barley and rye.
Loans are to be made at a charge not to exceed five per cent per annum, simple interest. The total

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL TO HOLD ANNUAL REUNION

Mr. Jack Paxton of Innisfail, president of the O.S.A. Alumni Association, has announced that the Alumni dance will be held in the gymnasium on November 30. All former students and friends of the school are invited. A special treat is in store for the young folks, as Harry Binnings and his Range-landers of Red Deer will be supplying the music.

The annual meeting of the O.S.A. Alumni Association is scheduled for 7:30 and all former O.S.A. students are urged to attend.

amount lent a farmer is not to exceed the lesser of half of the returns from the estimated quantity for delivery or $1500, and is to be reduced by the amount which the farmer has received from any deliveries under his 1934-35 quota. One-half of the money payable to the producer for subsequent deliveries is to be paid to the bank to apply against repayment of the loan.

According to last year's act, loans are not to be made to borrowers with loans outstanding from the previous year. Last year some 6,000 prairie farmers took loans to a total of $7 million, according to a recent statement of Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner.
By June most of this had been repaid.

No Need For Continuous Advertising

Preachers ...

Should preach only one sermon or so a year. People are against sin anyway, so why harp on it.

Traffic Lights ...

Should be turned off at dangerous intersections to save electricity.
Everybody knows it's a dangerous spot and that is sufficient.

Teachers ...

Do not need to review lessons. Tell the children just once and they'll never forget.

Highway Police ...

Stop driving up and down the high-shop at home.

But if you are one of the foolish kind — like the Notre Dame cathedral that has stood for six centuries but still rings the bell every day to let people know it is still there — and believe in continuous, profitable advertising then you will want to advertise in

The date is 1975. The hydrogen bomb has laid our planet to waste and man has vanished from the face of the earth. With him have gone all the animals, large and small. Throughout the world there is no sign of life, except one.

From a deep, dark cavern in a small remote spot in Africa, two small creatures emerge to stare at the ruins all around them. After a period of reflection, the boy monkey turns to his mate. "Well," he says, in a tone of deep resignation, "let's start all over again."

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED AT RECENT SHOWER

Miss Patsy Hipkin, bride-elect of this month, was honored when her former class mates entertained recently in the basement of the United church. A large gathering of friends were on hand and following an hour of fun, the bride-to-be, was seated under a canopy of blue streamers and white bells. She was then presented with a large imitation electric stove, which was overflowing with beautifully wrapped gifts.

Patsy graciously thanked her many friends for their kindness and good wishes.

Following the serving of a bountiful lunch, the guests departed, wishing the honored guest, once more, the best of everything in the future.

—He likes jewellery too . . . especially if it's "Swank" — and "Swank" is at STOTT'S JEWELLERY, in Olds.
